Orebeck Benefice News

July 2024

From Rev'd Ann:

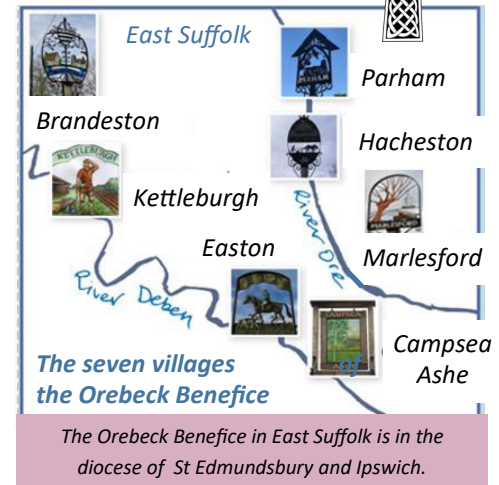

Last Sunday, was Father's Day and I was looking at some old photographs of my father and myself as a very small girl. It's strange, isn't it, looking at yourself as a child and I wondered where that small girl is now.

Well, she's still here of course. We carry our past selves with us all the time. It's not that we become different people as we move through time, it is more as if we add layers, layers of experience and knowledge. We carry all our previous selves with us and we cannot change what we were in the past. But we can become trapped by who we were, and we see now in so many places in the world the past being carried into the present and the often tragic consequences of that.

However, I believe that we have a God who is outside time and eternal, but who chose to step into human time in the form of Jesus, and because of that he can forgive and redeem ALL time.

Jesus came to know and live the past, present and future of human existence so that God's forgiveness and mercy can be for the past, present and future.

We too can, therefore, learn to forgive our pasts and the pasts of others, if we choose. If we do, then we can live our present lives free of the burdens of shame, guilt and fear, which so often leads to hatred and enmity. We can be free to learn from the past and move into the future with hope.

This world will still be a place where the past tugs at us and where the future rushes towards us faster, it seems, than ever. I hope and pray that we will try to live in ways that accept all that we are now, products of our past, yes, but not prisoners of it.

I also pray that we will try to enhance and protect our future selves; both for our own sakes and for all the billions of other 'selves' around us in this life, all the time.

Let us forgive and try and learn from the past so that we can live well in the present and have hope for the future.

Go well,
Ann
